Contract Disputes

From failed deals to out-and-out fraud, our experienced litigators offer quick response, strategic insight and decisive action to protect our clients' contractual interests.

Our litigators regularly handle contract disputes on behalf of large, publicly traded corporations, closely held businesses, and individuals. We bring expertise in interpreting, enforcing and voiding contracts, combined with practical-minded analysis, strategic foresight and efficient advocacy to every matter.

From breach-of-contract claims and supply-chain breakdowns to failed joint ventures, earn-out disputes, M&A-related litigation, and disagreements with commercial partners, we understand the business realities driving each conflict.

Our lawyers combine their extensive courtroom experience with a sophisticated understanding of corporate operations, enabling us to align litigation strategy with broader business goals.

Skilled at quickly assessing exposure, we identify leverage points and execute a tailored litigation plan — whether that means aggressive early motion practice, precise discovery, or positioning the matter for a favorable settlement or trial. Clients rely on us for clear communication, efficient case management, and a relentless focus on their desired outcomes.

Our litigators regularly appear in federal and state courts and before arbitration panels, including JAMS, ADR Services and AAA. We handle all aspects of litigation on behalf of plaintiffs or defendants, from initial investigation through trial, and in emergency proceedings involving injunctions and other forms of expedited relief. In every forum, we bring the same disciplined approach, technical excellence, and commercial
