A recognized leader in the commercial real estate industry, Jodi Fedor takes a holistic approach to helping clients navigate complex deals nationwide on behalf of developers, institutional and private investors, technology and consumer products companies, and other owners and occupants of commercial real estate.

Jodi draws on decades of experience in nearly all aspects of commercial real estate. She has advised clients on acquisitions, leasing, financing and other transactional aspects of both public and private development projects. Her previous and ongoing representation of both public and private sector clients, as well as parties on various sides of transactions [including both landlords and tenants, lenders and borrowers] provides valuable insight into developing solutions that best address the needs of all parties involved.

Jodi has been involved in many notable Bay Area mixed-use and residential developments and skillfully navigates through complex transit-oriented and other public-private development projects.
